good moisture. Will flower in sun or shade but prefer good sunlight. All round fertiliser.

Propagation. Usually by separating or cutting rhizomes. Growing from seed is possible but you will be waiting a long time if you can germinate them.

Supply We supply a wide range of Heliconias...usually by rhizome as many are too big to send by courier in a pot.

FOCUS ON HELICONIAS

Heliconias come from only one Family...called Heliconiaceae. They are different to Gingers. Heliconias have the spectacular claw like bracts. The bracts vary greatly in shape, size and colour combinations. The plants vary in height from 50cm to 4.5m. They all have broad luxuriant leaves similar to Banana (Musa species) to which they are related.

Heliconias will give you that lush tropical look and a source of flowers for your garden or cut for a long lasting decoration.

Origin & Ecology Heliconias come from the tropical Americas where they are an important food source for the forest Hummingbird while the Honduran White Bat makes a tent from its leaves! The Hummingbirds do most of the pollination but bats also known to do so. Seed dispersal is by birds if they can before eaten by mammals.

Flowering Flowering is truly amazing but the specky bract is not the true flower which is tiny by comparison but obvious when you see it popping out of the bract which has evolved to protect it. Flowering occurs within the bract in summer. Heliconia angusta varieties do so in later winter.

Some Examples We have access to a very wide variety of Heliconias. Here are some of the most popular the more cold tolerant ones with an (c). Heliconia angusta (c), H. rostrata(c), H. pendula (c), H. bihai (c), H. caribaea, H. latispatha, H. psittacorum, H. schiediana, and H. wagneriana. Also hybrids H. bihai x caribaea and H. psittacorum x spathocircinata.

Rhizomes supply energy to the plant for growth. They are thickened roots full of starch.

Climate & Cold Tolerance The Heliconias originate from tropical climates but many will grow & flower in warm temperate climates. They do like plenty of moisture but will still hold up in dry conditions due to their starch filled rhizome. We have found some that will flower in the warm protected parts of Sydney and Perth and these are included in our Cold Tolerant Collection. The Heliconia bihai varieties are more cold tolerant than the Crosses with Heliconia Caribaea.

Care & Soils Easy care but they do like moist well drained conditions. They will be OK in dry weather once established. Good in the sun with

NEWSLETTER OCTOBER 2021

Welcome to your October Catalogue.

We can be so rushed these days that we can jump in without giving our plants proper consideration. Remember that 'plants are peace' and if we want more peace & joy take the time to think about our plants. Plants operate in a very relaxed timespace.....much slower than the human mind moves....and that is why we always revert to nature when we wish to relax & tune in to the power of the Universe. Each plant here has been prepared with love & patience...we hope they keep you good company.

DID YOU KNOW

*A seed contains its own food supply, which helps the sprouting plant as it begins its new life.

*Roots are covered with root hairs that absorb water and minerals.

* Orchids have the smallest known seeds. They are the oldest member of the Asparagus (Asparagales) Family ...this fact was only discovered in recent years by DNA analysis.

* Apple seeds Apple Seeds contain a small quantity of cyanide which renders the seeds quite bitter tasting.

NURSERY WALKTHROUGH....LIVE

We have now done three. The first one on Ferns and then How to Import Plants into Australia. This week we covered getting plants into the Quarantine States of Tasmania, Western Australia and the Northern Territory. We now do a 3 weekly Nursery Walkthrough at 2pm on Wednesdays. As we are not generally open to visitors. Strictly by appointment. We do different parts of the nursery each time and sometimes there is a focus on a particular type of plant or topic. It's on Facebook and its live!! Its also on Youtube so if you miss the live run you can pick it up later on both Facebook (Our ..Paradise Distributors.. Page) and Youtube (Paradise Distributors)

Because its live its very much ad lib...if we make a mistake bad luck. The next one will be Wednesday 27th October at 2pm.

DECIDUOUS PLANTS

are fantastic because they are unaffected by winter ..by dropping all their foliage...they have a rest for 3 months but when they bounce back they do it with a flourish & are always the fastest & most consistent flowerers.

NOT YOU but the occasional customer acquires a deciduous plant going into winter & thinks its going backwards so applies heaps of water & fertiliser effectively killing it by drowning & poisoning.

TRUE LIES

The ladies dishwasher in Dianella WA had stopped working, so she called a repairman. He couldn't accommodate her with an evening appointment, and since she had to go to work the next day, she told him "I'll leave the key under the mat. Fix the dishwasher, leave the bill on the table, and I'll mail you the cheque. By the way, dont worry about my BlueHealer. She wont bother you. But, whatever you do, do not under any circumstances talk to my rainbow lorikeet!" When the repairman arrived at her house the next day, he discovered the meanest looking female blue healer with great big sharp teeth...the biggest he had ever seen. Like she had said, the dog just lay there on the carpet, watching the repairman go about his business. However, the whole time he was there, the lorikeet drove him mad with its incessant squawking and talking.

Finally the repairman couldn't stand the lorikeet's talking any longer and he told the bird to be quiet. The lorikeet replied, "Get him, Bluey"

WHY PLANTS WAKE UP YOUR SPIRITUAL SIDE

Have you ever noticed how being in a setting with plants and even one plant can wake up your spirituality. But first of all what is your spiritual side and how does it feel !

One way of putting it is that your Spirit is the real you....when you remove all the fears and stress in your daily life and all pain physically and mentally ie nullify mind and body....you are left with your spirit and it feels very pleasant....you feel very pleasant and that magical pleasantness is your Spirit and its always there although hidden when suppressed!!

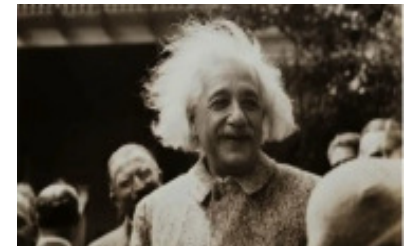

Your Spirit being completely natural and unaffected by anything concocted or manmade has a natural vibration which is the natural vibration of our Universe.

Plants evolved in our universe or specifically on our planet at the same vibration as the universeafter all ...how else could it happen. Plants evolved much earlier than the Animal Kingdom who came and lived off them.

Your spirit vibrates at the same frequency as the plants the frequency of the natural Universe.

This is why plants can bestow on you a very pleasant feeling because your natural spirit is being awoken. Not only that your vibration can resonate to a higher amplitude again when you are already in that pleasant feeling and you encounter the vibration of a forest or even a single plant. This is how plants elevate your spirit.

Is it any wonder why so many plants have been given spiritual significance in various cultures around the world. Just look at the Australian Aboriginal Cultures and those of Asia and India for a start.
